Since joining the Franklin County Data Center over two years ago, Kim has consistently exceeded expectations and become an essential member of the team. While her primary focus is driving excellence within People Operations (PEX & PXM), her proactive and adaptable approach has allowed her to seamlessly support both the Administrative and Management teams. Kim not only manages processes but improves them, anticipating needs before they arise and enhancing the experience of everyone she works with. Her three certifications and multiple leadership courses further demonstrate her commitment to growth and have equipped her well for the next step in her career with FCDC and Franklin County. MISCELLANEOUS ACTIONS / COMMENTS
Matt has built and advanced Franklin County’s data loss prevention program from the ground up, having led testing, policy development, and adoption across multiple agencies and Data Center teams. So far, he has expanded security capabilities across eDiscovery, data security, and encrypted messaging, while consistently demonstrating strong attention to detail and excellent partner communication. Matt’s technical skill, thoroughness, and ability to collaborate across teams have strengthened overall security operations at the county. As he takes on new challenges that require greater documentation, visibility, and knowledge sharing, Matt's expertise and leadership potential make him well-suited for a higher-level engineering role. This elevated position benefits both the security team and Franklin County, as the need for an expanded Data Loss Prevention program only grows alongside the increasing prevalence of AI.

MISCELLANEOUS ACTIONS / COMMENTS
Tony initially joined the team as a technical resource supporting our server upgrade initiatives, and since that time, he has consistently demonstrated initiative and a strong commitment to expanding his technical capabilities. He began developing expertise in our Cisco UCS environment, quickly showing a natural aptitude for understanding its complex hardware architecture and operational dependencies. He also dedicated effort to mastering our VMware infrastructure, progressing from limited familiarity to becoming one of the team's primary subject matter experts through focused learning and practical experience. Beyond his technical contributions, Tony is a highly dependable and trusted team member who approaches challenges consistently, with sound judgment and critical thinking, setting a strong example for his peers. His willingness to take ownership, support others, and ensure work is completed accurately has made him an essential contributor to the continued improvement of our infrastructure environment, which supports this salary increase.
